Curriculum Vitae:

Born in 1972, in Zemun, Serbia. In 1995 he started working as assistant managing director on a festival, which he established three years later as “European Film Festival Palić”.

From 2002 until 2006 he was the executive producer of the “Belgrade International Film Festival”, Serbia’s biggest and oldest film festival. In spring 2004, together with a group of young film professionals, he established “ART & POPCORN Motion Picture Company”, and entered the production market independently. Six Years later “SOUL FOOD INTERNATIONAL SALES AND DISTRIBUTION” became the first South-East European sales company that promotes Serbian and South-East European films. In 2012 he finally succeeded to restore the film program “Cinema Fontana” in cooperation with the municipality of New Belgrade. Last year NO ONE’S CHILD, produced by him, won the Award for Best Film at goEast.
